Committed to Sustainability

Amada Colossos Resort has embraced its responsibility to sustainability... all the way from its harmonious design and advanced energy-saving measures to its day-to-day operations and the preservation of the natural wealth of Kallithea.

All window panes and frames (an area of 2,000m²) are energy efficient.

Heat Recovery Chillers reduce energy costs of air conditioning units and hot water by up to 5 times.

All heating and cooling in rooms and public spaces is by Chillers and Inverter Pumps, reducing energy costs by 3 times.

Outside walls have been fitted with External Thermal Insulation Composite System.

All interior walls are painted with European Eco-Label paints.

LED technology light bulbs and light strips in all light fittings reduce energy consumption and maintenance requirements.

14,000 low-energy LED bulbs have been fitted around the resort.

All rooms have sophisticated energy management systems, so lights do not need to be switched off.

40,000m of energy-saving LED tape have been used on the premises.

450,000 pasta straws per season have been introduced to replace plastic ones.

No more plastic dishes, glasses and cutlery are being used in food & beverage outlets.

All waste (packaging, kitchen oil, batteries) is recycled.

All landscaping has been done with Mediterranean plants, minimising irrigation needs.

With Reverse Osmosis and Nanofiltration Technology, tap water in rooms and common areas is drinkable and guests save 450g of CO_2 emissions (equivalent to 6km of driving) in consuming 3-litre daily water quota.

The 430m of Kallithea Beach exclusively for Amada Colossos guests has been awarded a Blue Flag for the exceptional water quality and cleanliness.
