LOCATION

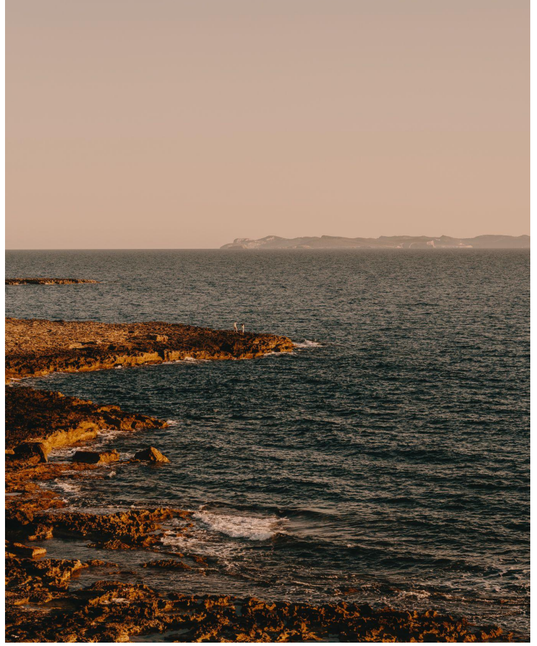
Colònia de Sant Jordi, Mallorca at its most authentic

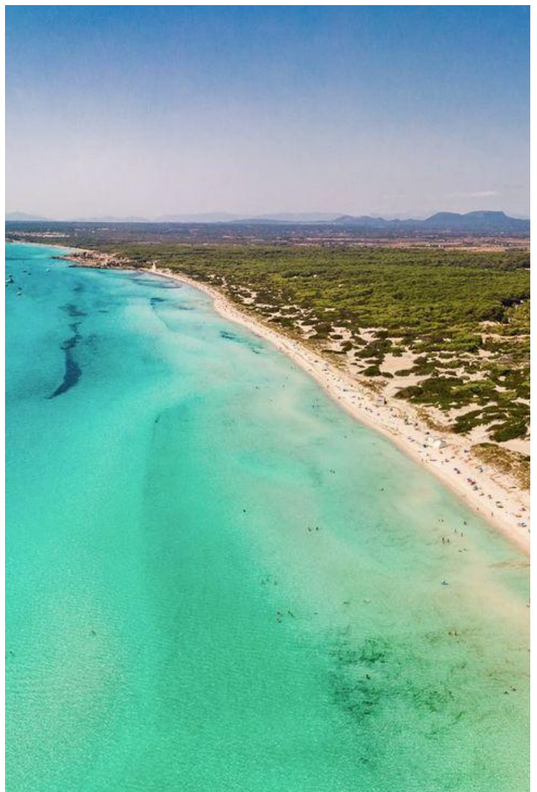
The historic fishing village of Colònia de Sant Jordi, located in the southeast of Mallorca, is now a lively coastal town surrounded by tradition and nature: its Sa Puntassa lighthouse guarding the bay of Migjorn, its still-active fishing boats, its local markets...

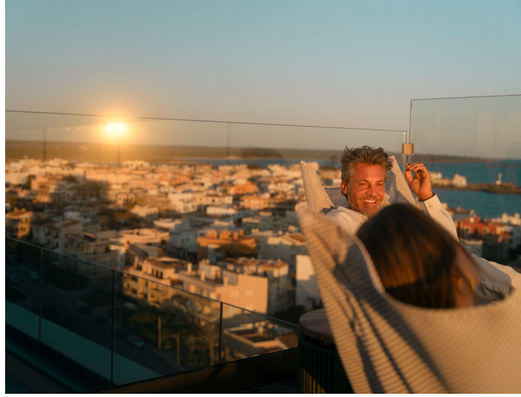
Colònia is possibly Mallorca's best-kept secret, the ideal summer spot for many locals. Perhaps due to its proximity to one of the island's best beaches, Es Trenc.

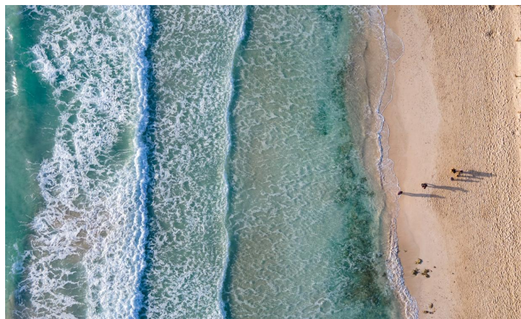
Experiencing Colònia means boat trips to Cabrera, strolls through the salt flats, bike rides at sunset along the promenade, an ice cream at Colonial, the Wednesday market, entire days spent enjoying the turquoise waters of Es Trenc beach, drinks at a beachfront ‘chiringuito’... the inland villages of Santanyí and Campos, and beaches like Sa Rápita, Es Dolç, and countless coves and natural parks.

Iberostar Selection Es Trenc 5* is for those who want to discover and enjoy Mallorca at its most authentic.









Surroundings

- Es Trenc beach

  One of the most cherished beaches in Mallorca due to its crystal-clear turquoise waters and its gleaming sand that stretches over 2 kilometres along the island's southern coast. A beach where nature lovers can appreciate the feeling of seclusion, wild beauty, and warm climate.

- Las Salinas

  Next to Es Trenc beach, the sea breeze, low humidity and abundant sunshine create the perfect conditions for water evaporation and the natural formation of salt. Thanks to these factors, combined with the use of traditional techniques, highly valuable and renowned salt crystals are harvested on the island.

- Cabrera island

  A protected nature reserve located less than 10 kilometres off the coast of Mallorca, it's just over an hour's sail away. From Colònia de Sant Jordi, boats depart daily offering excursions and organised visits to Cabrera; perfect for those who want to spend a different kind of day, surrounded solely by nature, on an island that is virtually untouched.

SALiVENT

FROM OUR ISLAND TO YOUR PLATE

Salivent is an à la carte restaurant with strong Mediterranean influences, serving local cuisine.

With a maritime style and a relaxed atmosphere, it's decorated with natural materials, aiming to frame the spectacular sea views and create a pleasant space, free of noise but full of ambiance.

The menu is closely aligned with Honest Food, featuring a strong offering of vegan and vegetarian dishes, local recipes, seasonal fish, vegetables and responsibly sourced seafood.

The name 'Salivent' is a combination of two Mallorcan words: 'sal' (salt) and 'vent' (wind). Salt is a typical product of Colònia de Sant Jordi, where traditional techniques using seawater, sunlight and wind are still employed to produce it naturally, with the wind being a key element in this process.

It will operate as a traditional à la carte restaurant and will be open to non-guests.

A hotel focused on sustainability

Sustainable operations

Energy consumption control system

Guests will be aware of and involved in their energy savings, thanks to a real-time monitoring system in all rooms.

Reduction of the hotel’s CO2 emissions

We’ve chosen renewable solar energy by installing solar panels at the hotel to produce our own electricity and hot water.

Responsibly sourced fish and seafood

Our goal is to obtain 100% of our fish and seafood from responsible sources by 2025.

Circular economy

We’ve implemented Winnow, an AI-powered food monitoring system, to reduce food waste.

Water fountains

We’ll provide filtered water fountains at various points throughout the hotel to eliminate the use of single-use plastics.
